In 1818, a group of actors was touring Austria with gospel messages. On December 23, they showed up at Oberndorf, a village near Salzburg where they intended to re-enact the birth of Christ in the Church of St. Nicholas. Sadly, the church organ was in disrepair and so they decided to put on their show in a private home.

Communication is essential in any healthy relationship. We communicate to give praise to others and express our desires. It can be verbal or nonverbal, and each form can send a different message than the other. It is important for believers to be communicating with their creator (God) in a similar way, expressing adoration of Him, confessing our sins, giving thanks and sharing our desires. We ...

Text: For a hymn as well loved as this one, there is, oddly enough, some division about the text. Paul Westermeyer writes that "some sing it with fervor, while others are offended by what they perceive as smug and self-assured inwardness" (Let the People Sing, 306).I would argue the text speaks of comfort and hope, not smugness, and is a very fitting hymn in the face of trials.

Matins (also Mattins) is a canonical hour in Christian liturgy, originally sung during the darkness of early morning.. The earliest use of the term was in reference to the canonical hour, also called the vigil, which was originally celebrated by monks from about two hours after midnight to, at latest, the dawn, the time for the canonical hour of lauds (a practice still followed in certain orders).
